

세월호가 도착,
세월호를 기억합니다.

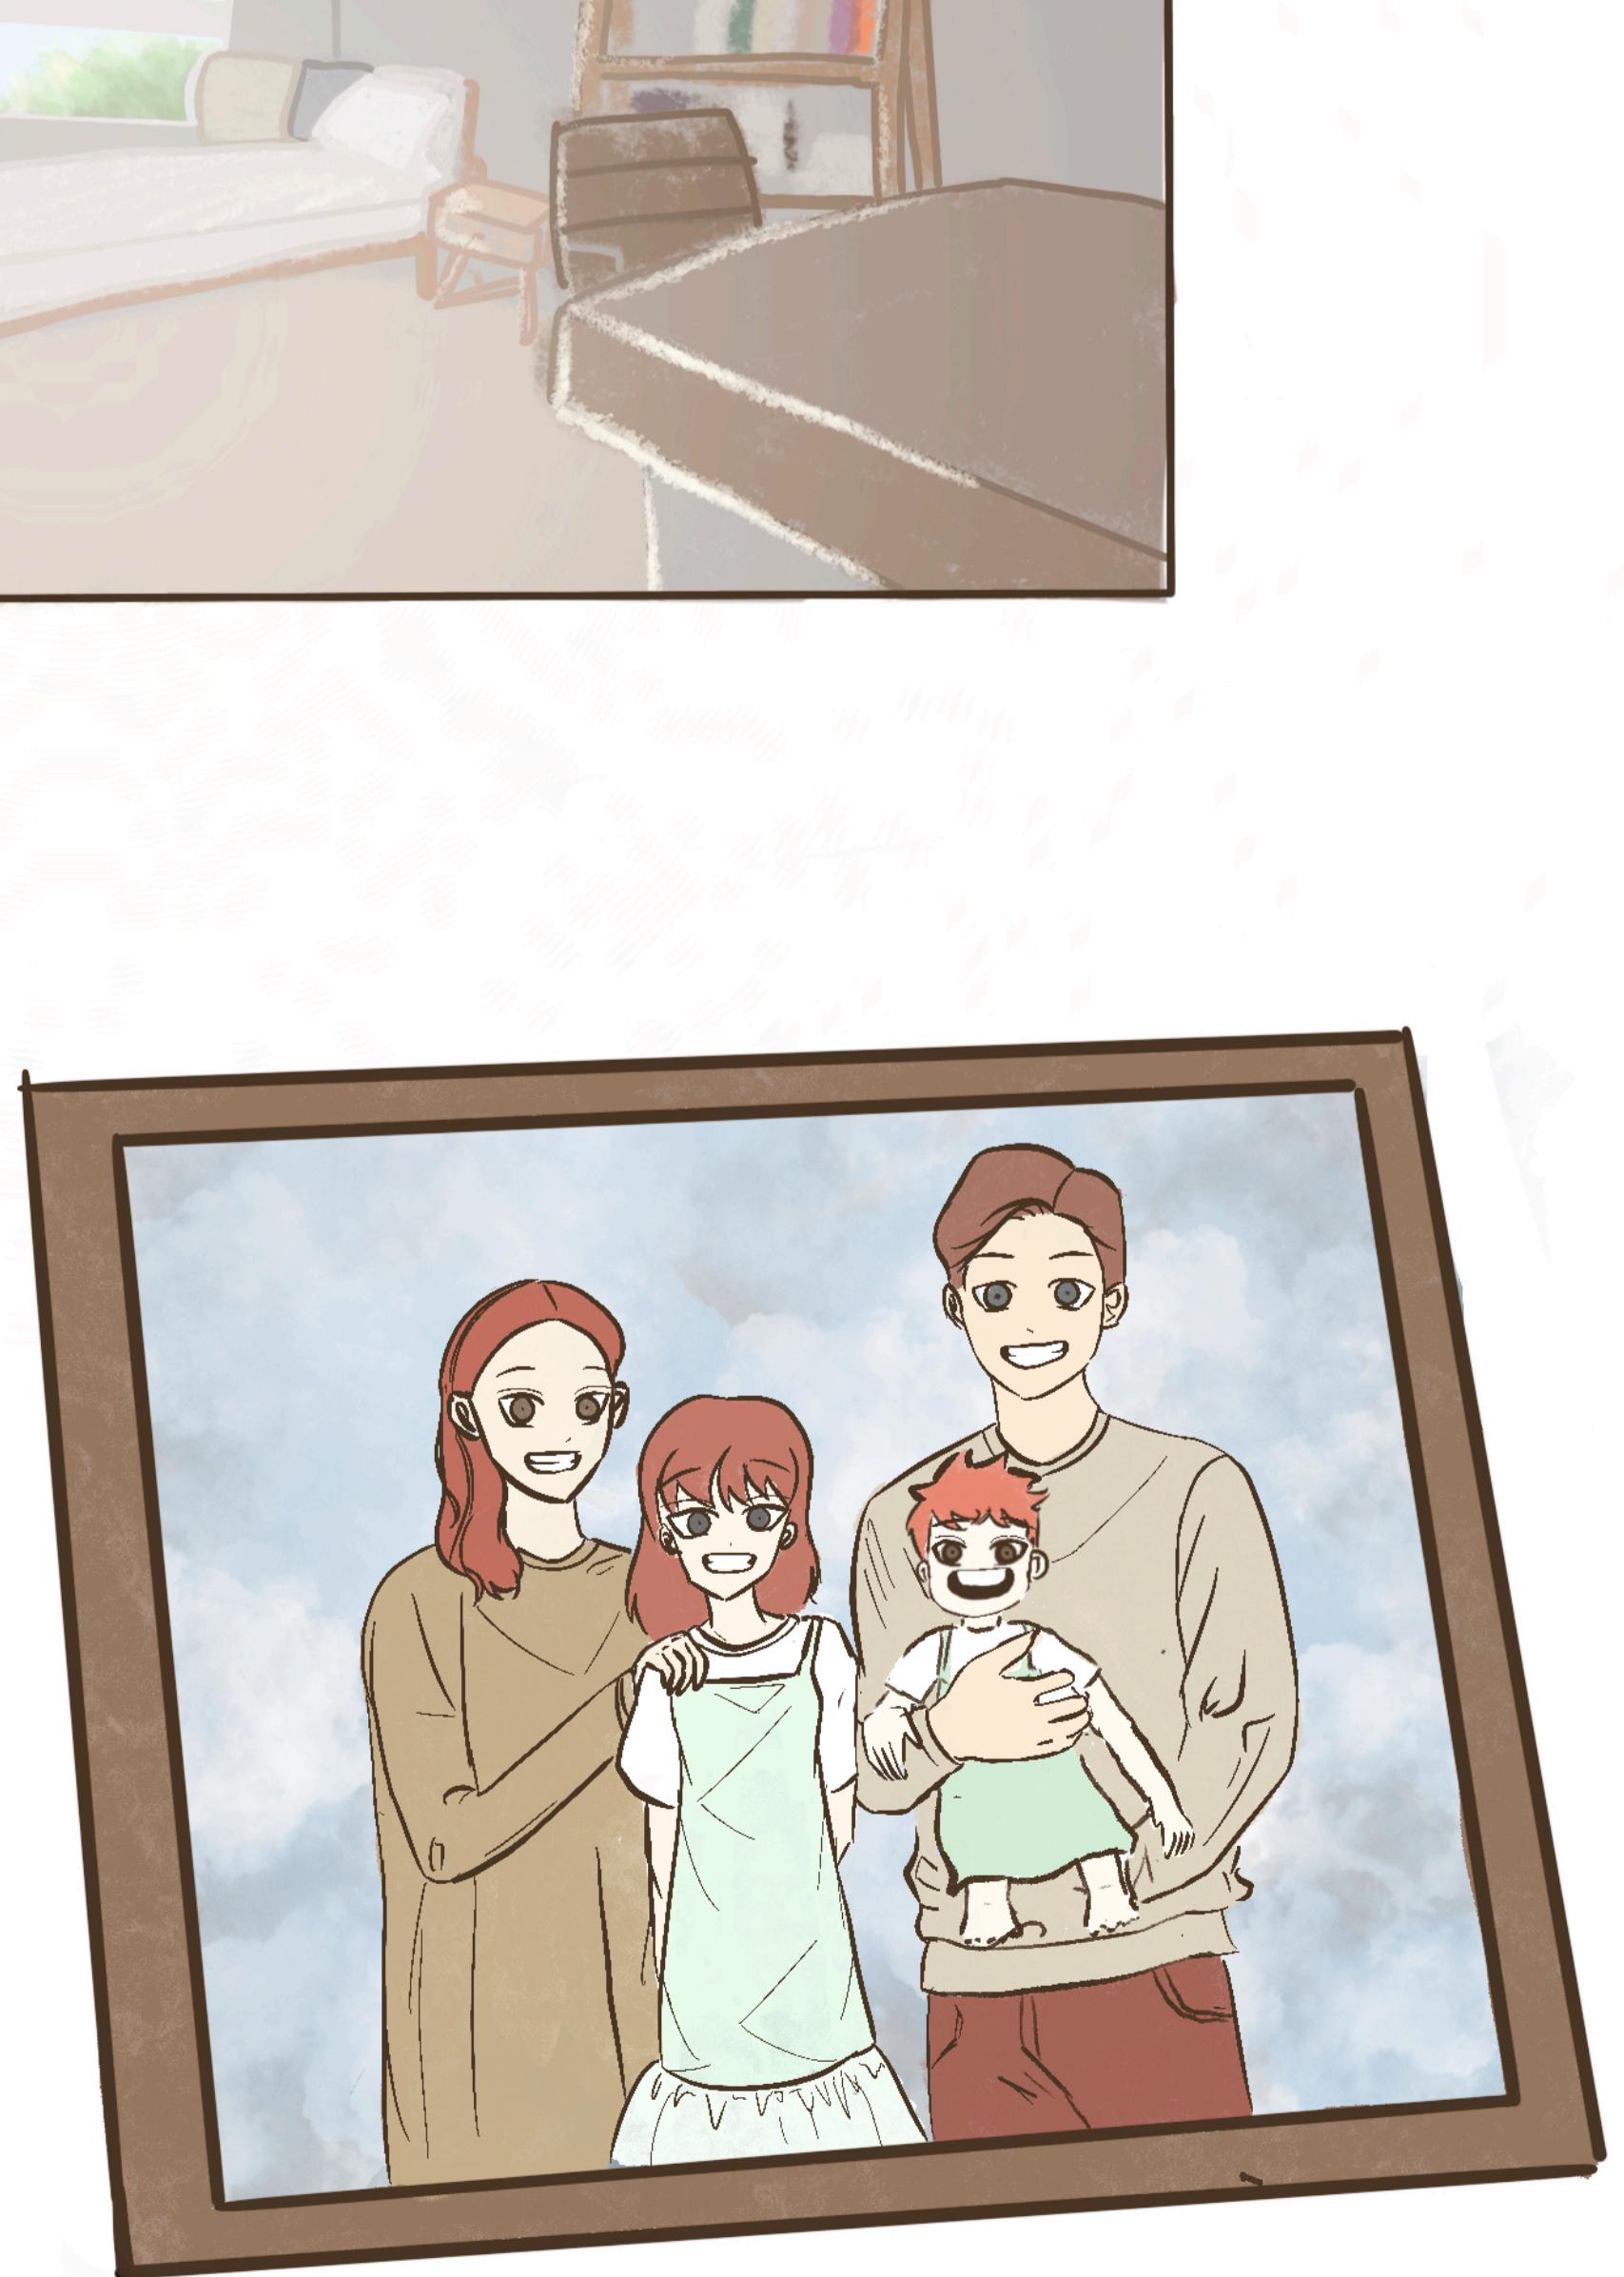

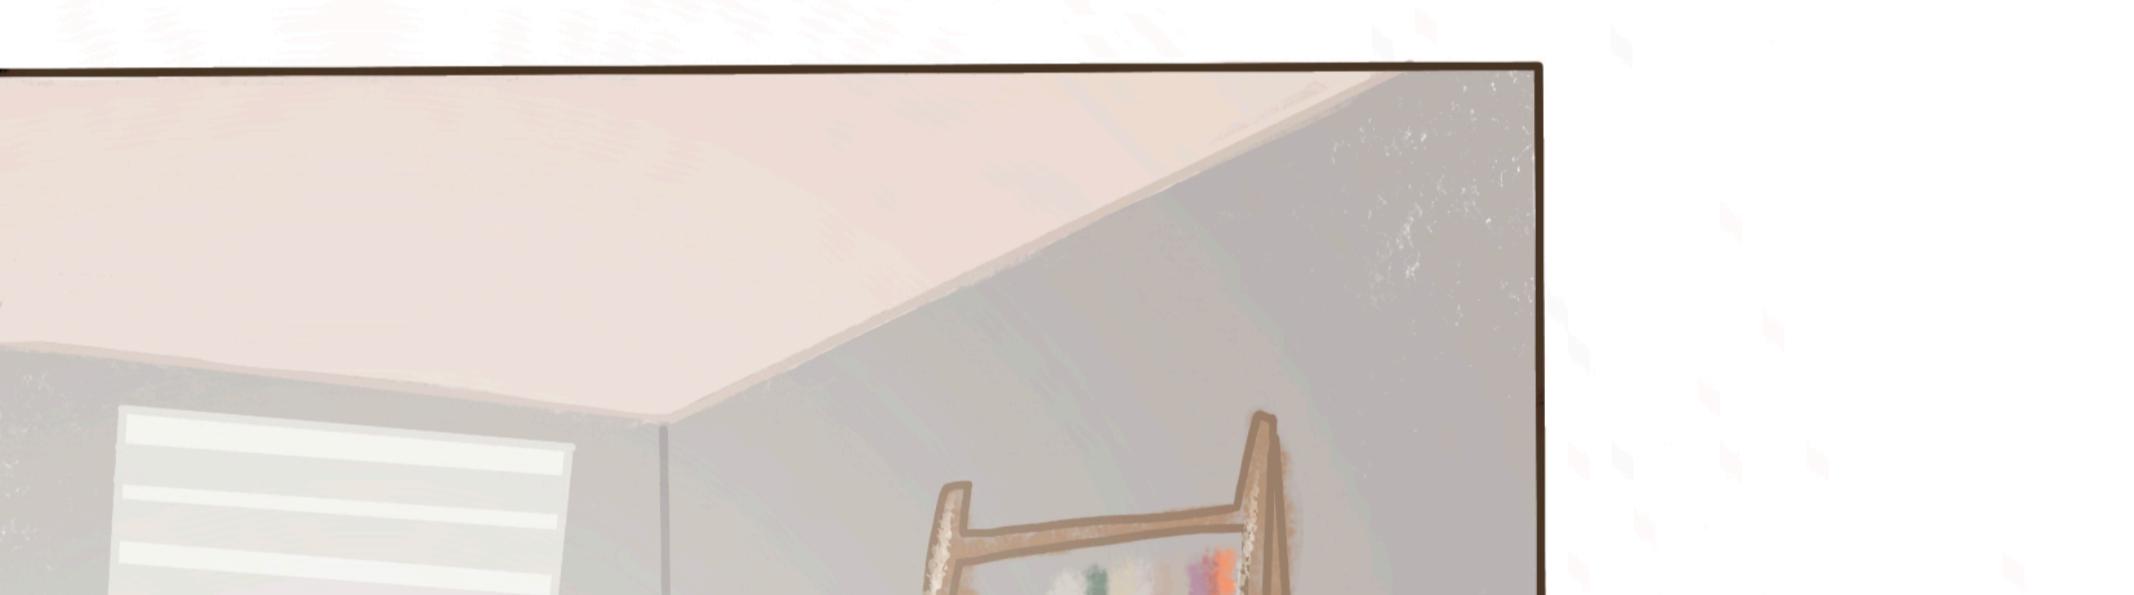

Even as time passes,

let's remember the Sewol ferry.

Gyeonggi-do, South Korea. April 15, 2014...

Here Daeun~ I got you a present
because tomorrow's your b-day!

Now, give your sister a hug before she leaves~

KYAA!

I'm sorry I'll be gone for your b-day. I'll come see you as soon as I come back from Jeju-do.

Incheon

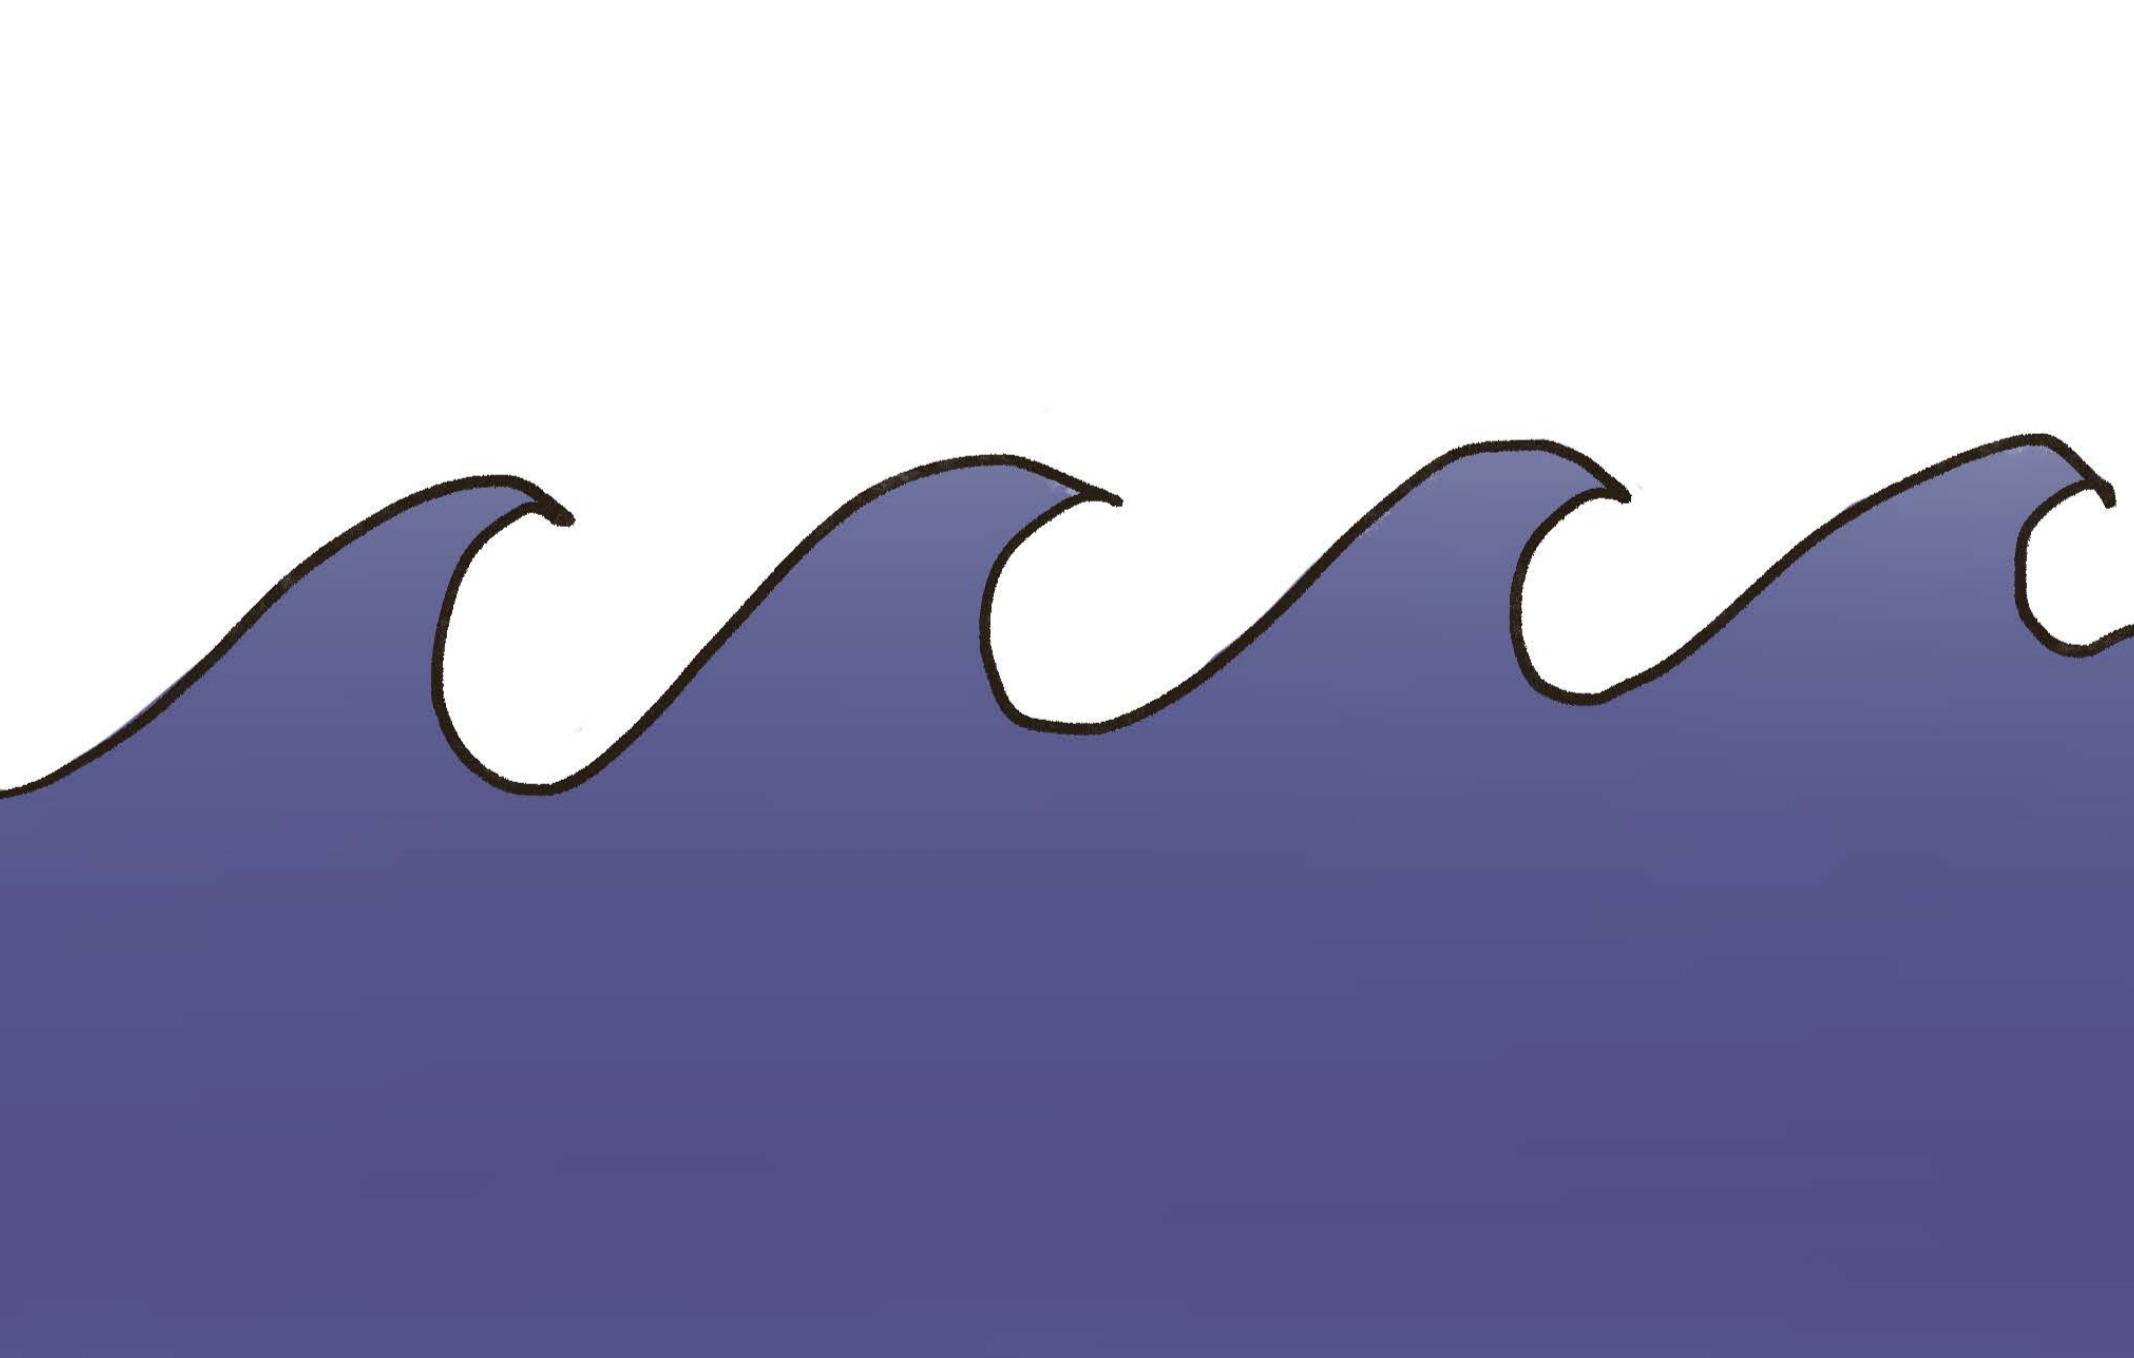

Let's Go Go!

I should come with my whole family next time.

Daeun would love it here!

Let's take a picture!

A close-up view of a smartphone held horizontally. The screen displays three girls from the previous image taking a selfie. They are all wearing bunny ears and colorful flower headbands. The girl on the left is wearing a grey hoodie, the middle girl is in a brown t-shirt and plaid skirt, and the girl on the right is in a yellow sweater. The background of the phone screen shows a blue sky with white clouds.

The next day, April 16, 2014...

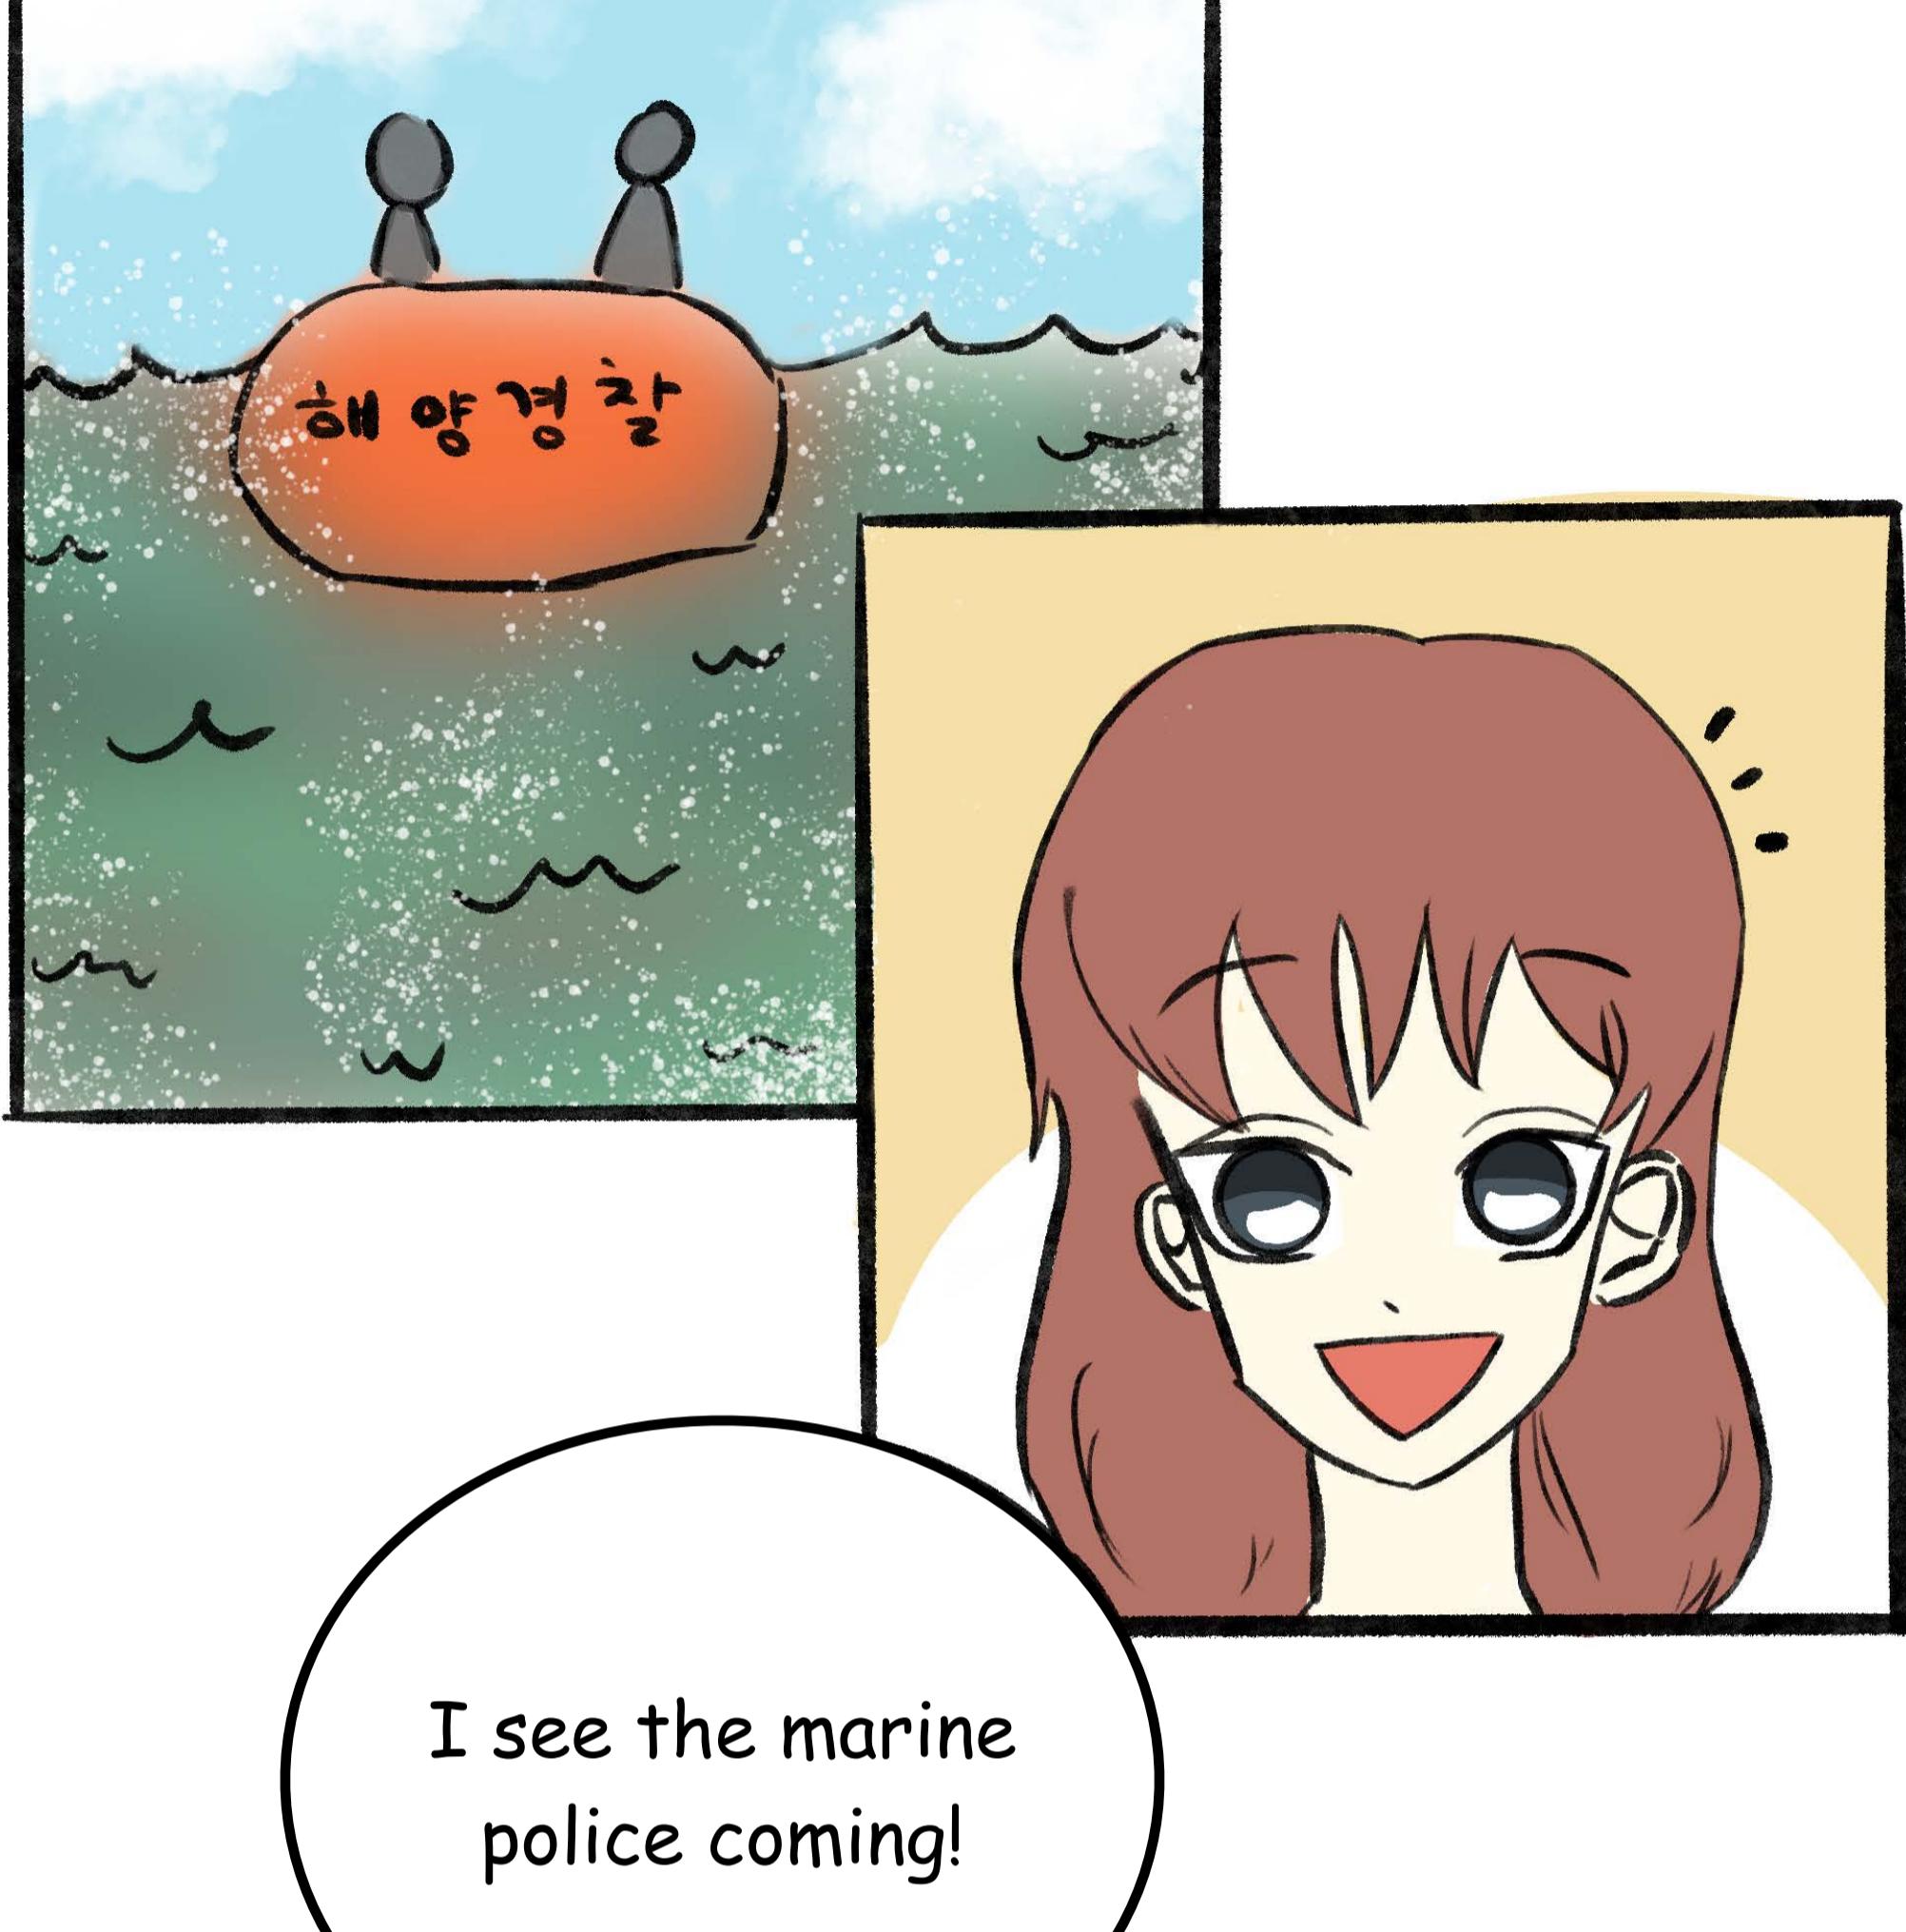

A couple minutes later...

WE ADVISE THE DANWON HIGH SCHOOL, DO NOT MOVE FROM YOUR CURRENT POSITION AND PLEASE WAIT.

I see the marine police coming!

They're coming

soon, so don't worry too much.

Wait! What about us?!

CAPTAIN.

Another couple minutes later...

Hey...
Don't cry...
We'll be fine...

The marine police came,
but why aren't they telling us to go out?
The boat is sinking!

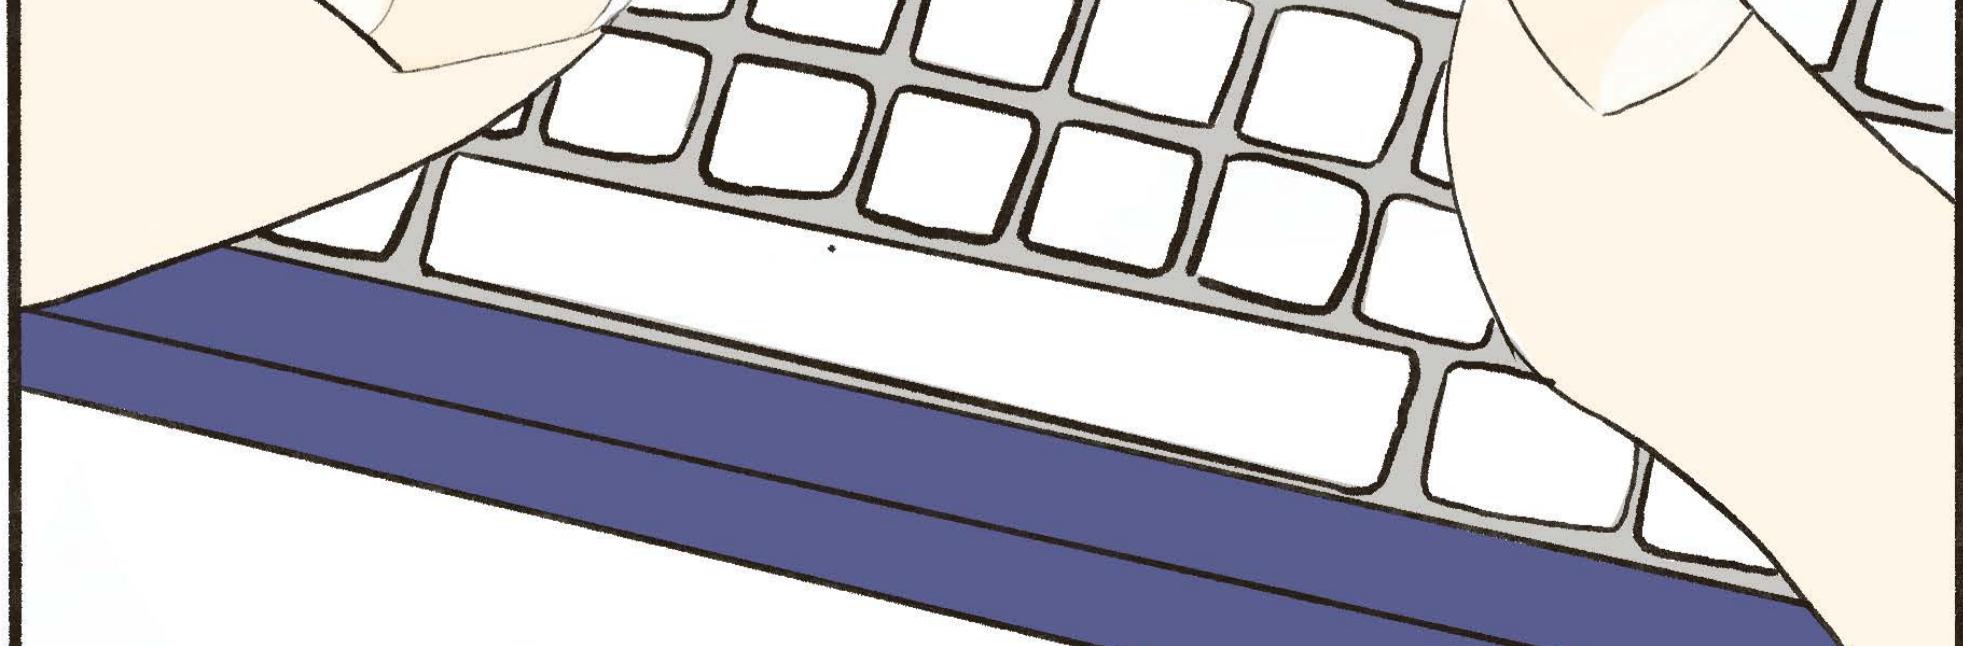

I don't want to die...

I miss my family... I'm scared...
I want to go home...

Mom, Dad, Daeun... I'm sorry... and...

I love you...

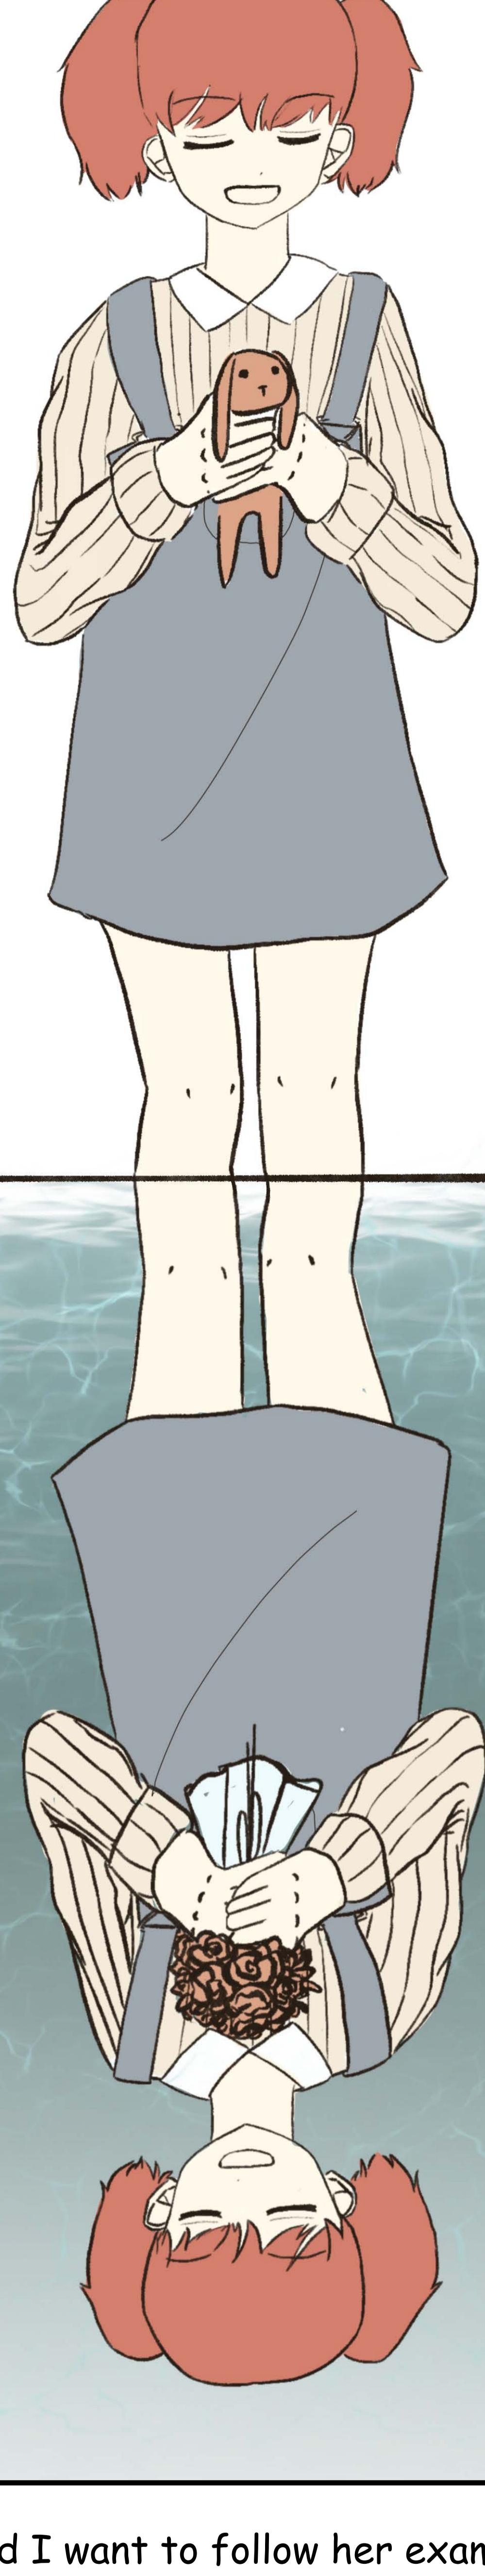

Present day...

My older sister gave me this stuffed animal for my birthday.
So, this is very special to me because it reminds me of her.

Her dream was to become a nurse,
so she always studied hard...

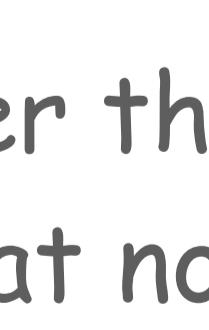

... and I want to follow her example...

My birthday is a happy and sad day,
because it is also the anniversary of my sister going to heaven.

She died with 304 other people with dreams, and lives
not yet lived to the fullest...

Let's remember the Sewol Ferry Tragedy so that nothing like this ever happens again.
